Neighbourhood crime report

Recorded crime summary for N16 0AS

This 5-year report summarises 5,735 published incidents within 0.5 km of the searched postcode (Sep 2021 to Aug 2026), and whether the latest 12 months look like the earlier years in the same search circle.

Read this as a summary of published police data for one postcode-centred search area, not as a safety rating.

Main findings

- Anti-social behaviour was the largest published category, making up about 1 in 4 recorded incidents in the search area (24.0%).
- Compared with the area policed by Metropolitan Police, Anti-social behaviour makes up a larger share of local incidents (24.0% here vs 21.1% there).
- Compared with England and Wales, Violence and sexual offences makes up a much smaller share of local incidents (22.5% here vs 35.0% nationally).
- Latest 12 months returned 1,083 published records; the earlier part of the window averaged about 1,163 records per year. Jan-Aug 2026 vs Jan-Aug 2025: -46 records (same months, not a full year).

Important limitations

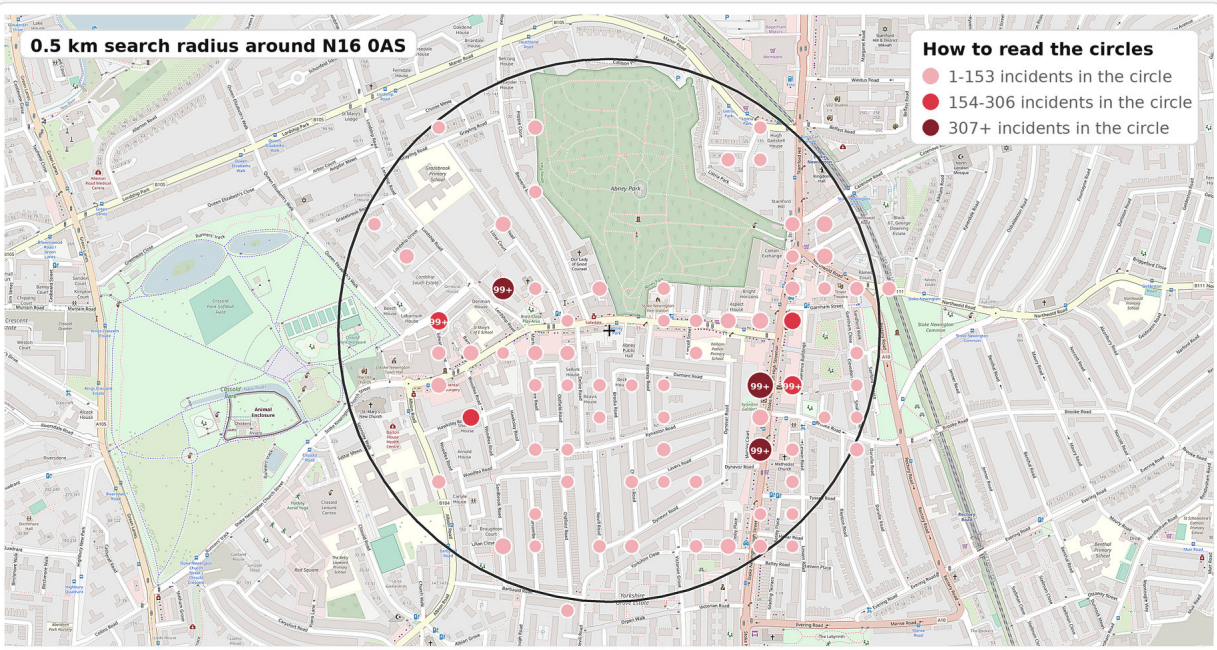

- This report describes recorded incidents in the published dataset, not all crime experienced in the area.
- Published police locations are approximate and should not be treated as exact addresses or exact incident points.
- Outcome labels are shown as published and are not the same as court results or a full case history.
- Recent months can move as police forces revise or backfill published records.

Maps

These maps show the searched area and broad concentrations in the published data. They are designed to stay cautious about location precision.

Concentration

Grouped incident counts from approximate published police points within the searched radius

Larger, darker circles mean more recorded incidents nearby - concentrations, not exact locations.

Basemap: © OpenStreetMap contributors, openstreetmap.org/copyright.

Largest concentrations

The biggest clusters sit around the most repeated published labels: On or near Stoke Newington High Street (445 records), On or near Shopping Area (407 records), On or near Brett Close (373 records). These labels are anonymised street references, not exact addresses.

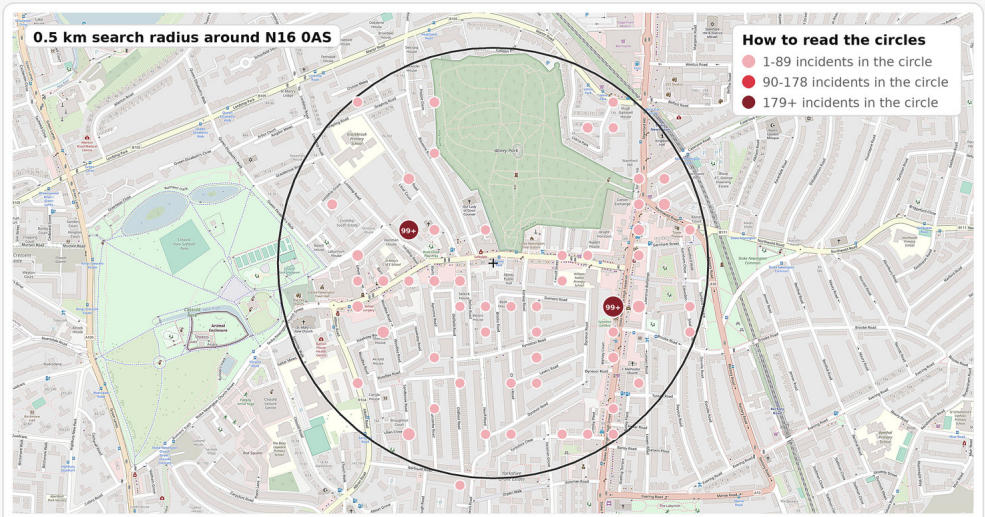

> The concentration map groups nearby published points together so you can see broad clusters without making the underlying data look more exact than it is.

Where the largest crime types concentrate

Different crime types usually cluster in different places. These maps repeat the concentration view for the largest published categories in this search circle.

Published records by category

Every published record in the search circle falls into one of the police data categories below. This chart shows the raw counts for the report window, with each category's share of the local total.

Counts are published records only. Categories follow the police data scheme, so broad groups such as violence and sexual offences, or other theft, mix several different incident types.

About the largest categories

Anti-social behaviour - 1,379 records

Anti-social behaviour often reflects nuisance, public disorder, or recurring quality-of-life issues rather than conventional acquisitive crime.

Violence and sexual offences - 1,288 records

Violence and sexual offences covers offences against the person, such as common assault and grievous bodily harm, and sexual offences. A high share here changes the character of the local pattern more than a similar share of low-value theft.

How close to the searched postcode?

Distances are measured to the approximate point each record was published at, not the true incident location, so read these bands as broad closeness.

Compared with the wider police area

This comparison uses the area policed by Metropolitan Police in the same report window. It helps show whether the search area has a different category mix from the area policed by Metropolitan Police.

A comparison with the wider police area keeps the source and the time window aligned. It still does not account for population, land use, or visitor activity.

Compared with England and Wales

This page compares the local mix of crime categories with the England and Wales pattern. It shows differences in category share, not differences in resident crime rate. The England and Wales benchmark uses all published incidents across England and Wales between Sep 2021 and Aug 2026.

Local share against England and Wales share

What stands out

- Violence and sexual offences makes up 22.5% of local incidents, far below its 35.0% England and Wales share.
- Anti-social behaviour makes up 24.0% of local incidents, above its 16.0% England and Wales share.
- Theft from the person makes up 6.2% of local incidents, above its 1.8% England and Wales share.

How to read this page

- This comparison helps describe the local category mix. It is not a score or a ranking.
- Shares always add up to 100%, so one very large category pushes every other category's share down. A smaller share does not mean fewer incidents than elsewhere.
- Differences can reflect land use, transport activity, reporting patterns, and local policing as well as crime conditions.

Published outcome mix

Across England and Wales in the same benchmark window, 96% of published records were also unresolved or closed without a published charge, so a high local figure is not unusual. Anti-social behaviour is left out: police publish no outcome for it.

Published location labels and published outcomes are useful context, but both are partial. Read them as broad evidence about recorded patterns, not as a complete case history or an exact incident map.

Stop and search in this area

Police forces also publish records of stop and search encounters. These are a measure of police activity in the area, not a second count of crime - a busy stop and search location can reflect patrols and passing footfall as much as local conditions.

Recorded outcomes

Stop and search locations are approximate in the same way as crime records, and a large share of searches nationally end without a further published outcome. Read this page as context about police activity, not as a verdict on the area. Northern Ireland does not publish stop and search to police.uk, and some forces have missed months, so this count leaves out searches in any month a force did not publish.

The wider area

These figures cover the whole of postcode sector N16 0 and postcode district N16, the areas this postcode belongs to, as their pages on crimemapsuk.com publish them. They are not figures for the 0.5 km circle. The report gives no rate for the circle, because a circle cuts through postcodes, so its residents and its records would not cover the same geography.

Street-crime records per 1,000 residents

Published street-crime records (including anti-social behaviour), September 2025 to August 2026, per 1,000 usual residents in the Census 2021.

Area	Records	Residents	Per 1,000
Sector N16 0	898	8,099	110.9
District N16	7,135	68,445	104.2
Metropolitan Police			127.5

No England and Wales comparison is shown, because not every force involved has published every month of this window.

Residents-only rates overstate crime where many people visit who do not live there, such as city centres, stations, and retail parks. Residents are counted at March 2021 while records are current, so areas with many newer homes can read higher.

Rates cover England and Wales only. Residents: Office for National Statistics, Census 2021 postcode estimates, Open Government Licence v3.0.

Deprivation where residents of N16 live

Covers 100.0% of the 68,445 Census 2021 residents of N16. Share of residents in each decile, from 1 (most deprived) to 10 (least deprived) of each nation's small areas.

Residents in	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
England	30.6%	15.5%	14.8%	19.2%	7.8%	7.3%	2.0%	2.7%	0.0%	0.0%

England, English Indices of Deprivation 2025: of these residents, 46.2% live in the most deprived 20% of England's neighbourhoods and 0.0% in the least deprived 20%. Shares are rounded, so they may not total 100%.

Deciles rank neighbourhoods within each nation. In the official guidance's words, the index "can tell you if one area is more deprived than another but not by how much": decile 2 is not twice as deprived as decile 4. England and Wales measure deprivation differently, and "it is not possible to make direct comparisons between these indices". "Within every area there will be individuals who are deprived and individuals who are not." Crime is itself one of the index's domains (Community Safety in Wales), so the two partly measure the same thing. The mix doesn't explain this report's figures and is not a safety rating. Deprivation deciles: Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government, English Indices of Deprivation 2025, and Welsh Government, Welsh Index of Multiple Deprivation 2025, both under the Open Government Licence v3.0.

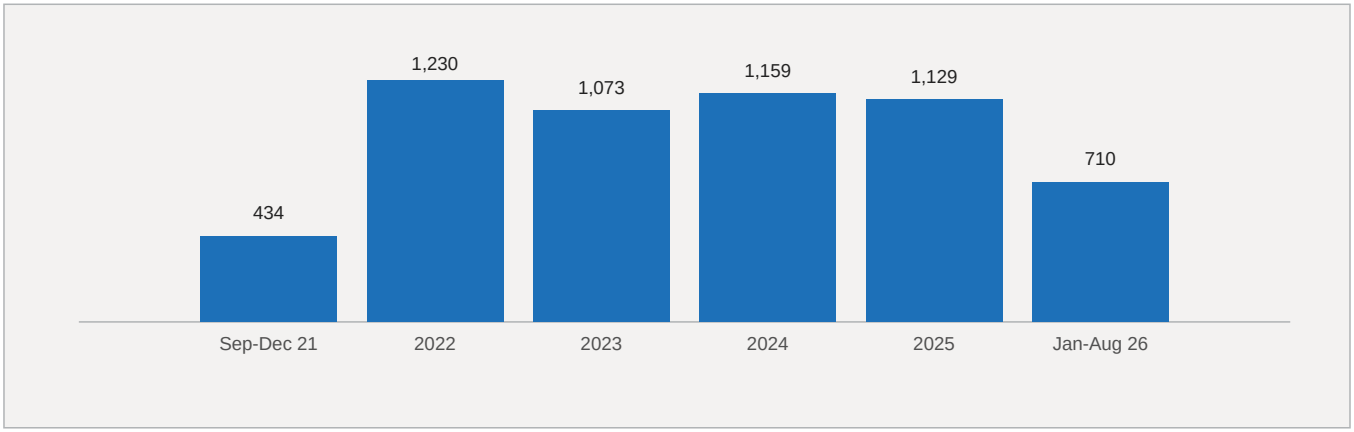

Trend and how the report was built

This page shows whether published volume changed across the multi-year window. The cover findings also compare the latest 12 months with the earlier years.

Recent 3 months returned 272 published records, compared with 259 in the earlier comparison period. Jun 2026 to Aug 2026 compared with Mar 2026 to May 2026

Year-by-year published volume (5-year window)

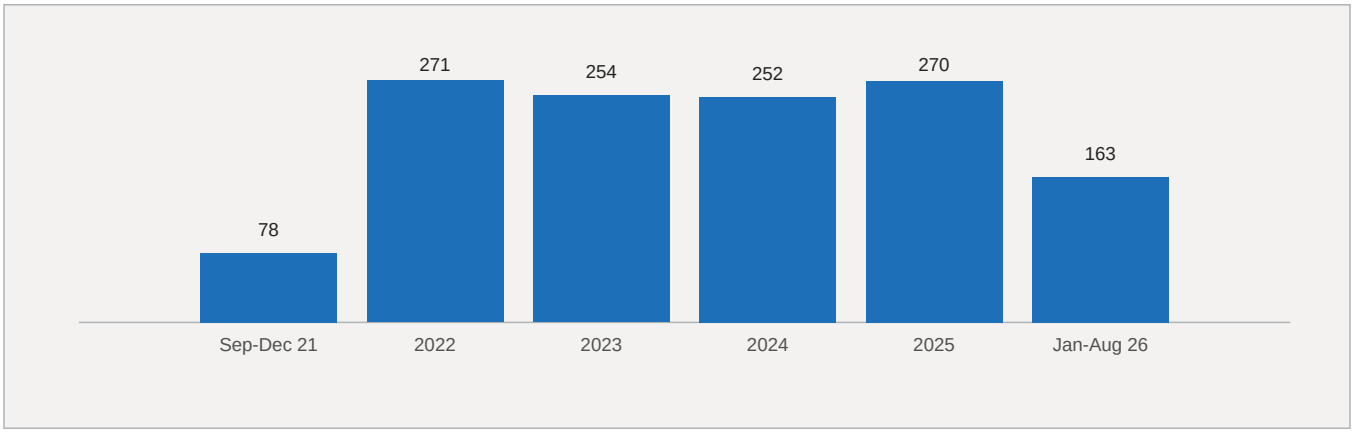

Jan-Aug 2026 vs Jan-Aug 2025: -46 records (same months, not a full year).

Partial calendar years are labelled with the months they cover (2021 covers Sep-Dec 2021; 2026 covers Jan-Aug 2026) and are not full-year totals. Every calendar year that overlaps the report window is shown, so the bars sum to the report total. If an appendix is included, it lists only the most recent published rows, not every record in the chart.

Violence and sexual offences year-by-year (5-year window)

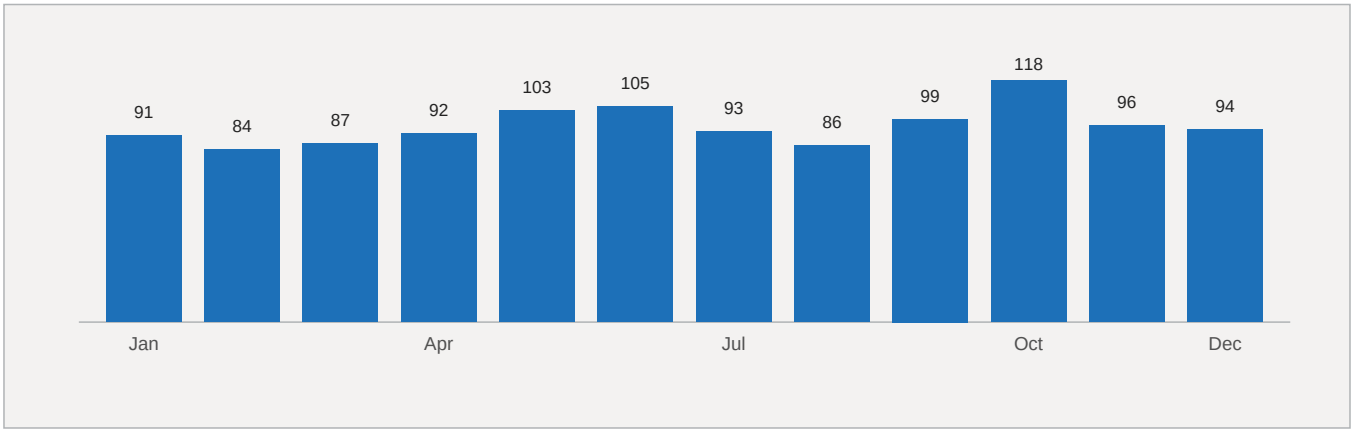

Jan-Aug 2026 vs Jan-Aug 2025: -15 records (same months, not a full year).

Only records published in the violence and sexual offences category are counted. Partial calendar years are labelled with the months they cover (2021 covers Sep-Dec 2021; 2026 covers Jan-Aug 2026) and are not full-year totals. Every calendar year that overlaps the report window is shown, so the bars sum to the report total. If an appendix is included, it lists only the most recent published rows, not every record in the chart.

Seasonal pattern - average records per calendar month

Across the window, October averages the most records and February the fewest.

Each bar averages that calendar month across every year in the report window, so it smooths out one-off spikes to show the typical seasonal shape.

Categories rising

- Shoplifting: 84 records in the latest 12 months, against an earlier average of about 53 per year (+58%).
- Other crime: 12 records in the latest 12 months, against an earlier average of about 8 per year (+41%).
- Public order: 86 records in the latest 12 months, against an earlier average of about 68 per year (+26%).

Categories falling

- Burglary: 46 records in the latest 12 months, against an earlier average of about 76 per year (-39%).
- Vehicle crime: 54 records in the latest 12 months, against an earlier average of about 72 per year (-25%).
- Other theft: 79 records in the latest 12 months, against an earlier average of about 104 per year (-24%).

Method summary

- Incidents were selected within 0.5 km of the postcode centre (51.56206, -0.07817).
- The police force comparison uses every incident published by the force named on most of this search's records, in the same report window. England and Wales comparison uses the overall published category pattern.
- Category mix benchmarking compares the local share of incidents with the England and Wales share for the same category. The England and Wales benchmark uses all published incidents across England and Wales between Sep 2021 and Aug 2026.

Why the report keeps things cautious

- data.police.uk street-level crime data under the Open Government Licence.
- Query window: 2021-09 to 2026-08.
- No rate per resident is shown for the circle itself, because no official population figure covers this exact search shape.

This report describes recorded incidents in the published dataset, not all crime experienced in the area. Published police locations are approximate and should not be treated as exact addresses or exact incident points. Outcome labels are shown as published and are not the same as court results or a full case history. Recent months can move as police forces revise or backfill published records.

Appendix

The pages that follow list the individual published records returned by the report query. They are included for transparency and depth. The main report pages should still be read first.

Appendix rows still use shortened location text and should still be interpreted as approximate published data.

Published incident list

Each row represents one published record returned by the report query. Dates reflect the incident month in the source dataset. This appendix shows the most recent 300 records so the PDF stays usable.
